Sylvie Guilleme was born in 1962 in Ile de France, in the Yvelines region.

Her painting invites us to fly over the lands of yesterday and today, the lands of her travels, of her memories. Here and there, she collects, keeps and deposits in her paintings small pieces of memory from territories that are often African or desert-like. Little by little, mysterious writings and graphics appear on the surface of the canvas, a kind of language born of her imagination or a transcription of her inner life. She likes to look at our environment differently. In her paintings, Sylvie Guilleme plays with certain anomalies and contrasts. Nature leaves us with vestiges, imprints, traces and repetitive elements, which the artist sometimes uses as installations in her exhibitions.
