BIO :

Martine Lemoine is a painter from Namur, born in 1960.

BACKGROUND :

A student at the Academy of Fine Arts in Namur, where she studied drawing and painting for six years, she has exhibited in various galleries in Namur and participated in solo and group exhibitions for some twenty years.

WORK :

Having moved on from the figurative style of her early work to a style characterised by simple shapes and vibrant colours, Martine Lemoine favours materials worked with a spatula and knife, scraping the canvas to create contrasting effects. Some canvases explode with colour, while others blend into darker tones, a technique that reflects her emotions. The painting is energetic and spontaneous, and the first impression of the work is one of her priorities. She invites the viewer to give free rein to their imagination.
