BIO :

Ingrid Loquenz was born in 1962 in Spittal/Drau, Austria.

CAREER :

She studied architecture at Graz University of Technology, alongside additional teacher training. She then studied painting under Professor G. Hoke. In 2001, she founded the adult painting group "Farbfreundschaft". She has taken part in numerous artistic and educational projects and initiatives.

WORK :

"I have never seen discipline in art as a hindrance, and it has never prevented me from following my own path. I have a deep love for landscapes, which I bring to life on my canvases using acrylic paint. By turning away from the real world, I discovered abstraction. I then began to shift and dissolve fixed forms. My experience has taught me to limit myself to a restricted number of colours through a very personal mixing technique. I live and breathe contrast. My favourite technique is the palette knife. The semi-solid application and the artistic possibilities inherent in it never cease to fascinate me."
